Recognition or anonymity

The Community Foundation appreciates the generosity of our donors! We would love to share your story to inspire others to give. We also provide the benefit of anonymity for donors who prefer that option.

What is an endowment fund?

When someone makes an endowed gift to our Community Foundation, it is permanently invested and grows over time. Earnings and appreciation from endowed funds allow the Foundation to make grants to nonprofits and charitable projects in the community.

Why make an endowed gift?

Our Community Foundation helps people create endowment funds -- many bearing the name of the donor or donor's family. Because endowments are permanent, they benefit our community forever. You have the satisfaction of knowing your charitable gifts will support the causes you care about for generations to come.

And your legacy will last forever.

It pays to be charitable

Philanthropy gives us a feeling of value and satisfaction – it feeds our desire to make a difference in our community.

Many people who make estate plans are also thinking about how they will be remembered after they're gone. Leaving a legacy of charity can be fulfilling.

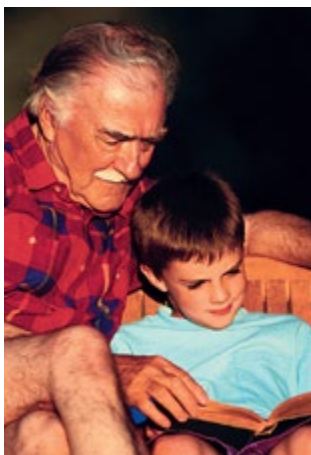

There are also financial rewards to being philanthropic. When you give during your lifetime, you may receive significant tax benefits while you see the impact of your gifts. When you give through your estate plan, you can give more to your favorite charities while saving your heirs from higher inheritance taxes.

The key to having a rewarding philanthropic experience is finding the best fit for your charitable priorities, goals and personal preferences.

This brochure can help start a conversation with your professional advisor about your charitable plans.
